

More About Baby Einstein™ Products...

We know babies are naturally curious and fascinated by the sights and sounds around them. We also know that every moment of every day in a baby's early years is an opportunity for discovery and interaction. This simple principle is the foundation for The Baby Einstein Company.

Originally conceived by a mom and designed specifically for babies and toddlers, Baby Einstein™ products work individually and collectively to provide fun and stimulating ways for parents and caregivers to interact with their children. Our videos, DVDs, music CDs, Discovery Cards, books and toys introduce youngsters to the world around them by using real-world objects, music, art, language, science, poetry and nature in playful, enriching ways.

Baby Newton™ Discovering Shapes focuses on five shapes as they appear in various contexts: in the beauty of nature, in toys, and in everyday objects, cars, buildings and playgrounds. We've combined the shapes with silly puppet shows, funny sound effects, computer animation, intriguing real-world visuals and the music of Vivaldi to stimulate your little one in uniquely positive ways.
